“STOP CHILD ORGAN THEFT”

What’s Happening :

Child Trafficking for human organs in Myanmar (Burma) is a major issue for authorities. Very little resources from Police or other agency are used to stop this horrendous illegal practice. Parents who are extremely poor are offered $50 from “Child Traffickers” saying they will employ their son or daughter in a factory. The child they are told will send money home each month to help the family. The child is never seen again and will eventually be murdered for their organs, which will be sold into the China, Thailand, India or Malaysia for USD $150,000 to $200,000 to desperate parents.

This disgusting plague effects over 50,000 children in Myanmar every year and is growing. The value to the criminal Child Traffickers is estimated to be worth over $3 Billion Dollars.

Step In Step Up :

A Myanmar organization “Step In Step Up” works in the poor slum areas of Yangon Myanmar. They have established a vocational training program for poor teenage children, with a ready paid job at the end of a 12 month quality vocational training program. Over 600 teenage children have been vocationally trained in Retail, Hospitality, Aged Care, Child Care, Grounds Keeper, English and Office Work and employed. The project is also aimed at explaining the dangers of child trafficking to poorer parents. This is a massive battle where devious methods are used to deceive parents who know no better, and their innocent children who are just pawns with a death sentence.
