Change a community
by educating a family...

little paths

One child's journey

Little Paths works to provide support for children in Tanzania, who are living and/or working on the streets or are at risk due to extreme family and community poverty.

Our philosophy is to empower children and families by providing them with the tools to be successful through education. Our sponsorships allow families to support their children throughout their entire educational journey: inspiring communities and making a difference beyond just the families we're funding directly.

How your support can help

$1 per day ongoing support

High school fees for a child for 1 year. Includes uniform, shoes, school fees, ID card, lab fees, stationary, paper, calculator, desk & chair, tuition.

School bag/pair of school shoes

$20

Primary school uniform

$80

Secondary school text books for one year

$100

Provides a family and community with a solar light that stores electricity and works as a power outlet as well as a security device (includes shipping)

$500

One year of secondary school fees and other requirements

$600

Further education options for Year 10 leavers

$1,000

Family Livelihood Support Pack

Little Paths are piloting an option for sponsoring families within the program to set up an income source. Depending on the specific needs and skills within the family, we might fund a taxi bike or gardening/farming equipment and a percentage of their income would be fed back into the childrens' education.

Boarding School Sponsorship for 1 year

$1,500

For children with no parental/community care options. Includes school and exam fees, uniforms, toiletries, sleeping and dining hall needs, food, security and school guardian.

$2,400

Employment of Local Support Worker for one year

Current welfare worker enrolls children, purchases uniforms, conducts admin, pays fees, remains as communication point between Little Paths and the sponsored children. Duplication of this invaluable local resource would allow existing students a deeper level of care and enable additional students to join the program.
